bond election that gave approval to a sanitary sewer program for that village. The canvass was conducted by the village board at its regular meeting Monday night and the official returns show 231 persons voted for the sewer bonds and 113 against their issuance. The meeting Monday night also marked the first held with the newly

Break Ground for Orland Park Sewage Plant May 12

At 12 noon next Tuesday, May 12, ground will be broken for a sewage treatment plant to be erected by the Chicago Sanitary District to serve the Orland Park community.

The plant is to be located on 147th street, near the Wabash railroad right of way. Persons attending the ceremonies — and the public is invited — are advised to go to 147th and West ave. and proceed from there.

Frank Chesrow, president of the sanitary district's board of trustees, other members and district engineers; Mayor W. R. Schussler Jr., and members of the Orland Park village board, and officials from neighboring communities will be present, along with representatives from the Orland Park Chamber of Commerce, American Legion, school boards, churches and other organizations in the area.

Beginning of work on the sewage treatment work is a step long anticipated by the Orland Park village board. With work actually begun on the disposal plant the board will now get busy on plans for a sanitary sewer system to serve the village.

The new housing developments, of course, have sewer mains installed but the original village does not have sewers. Like so many other communities in the region it is serviced by septic tanks and such a system is frowned upon by state and county health authorities in growing neighborhoods.

The developers of Orland Park Hills had planned to erect a sewage disposal plant of sufficient size to serve the entire village but before they were ready to begin this the Sanitary District announced its plans for a temporary plant that will serve a population of 8,000.

Eventually the district is expected to bring large interceptors into the area to pick up the sewage and transport it to a larger works.

Village Trustee Bretland A. Blair is in charge of the committee on arrangements for the ceremonies Tuesday. Refreshments will be served at the plant site and an invitational luncheon will be served the visiting dignitaries at 2 o'clock at Silver Lake Country club.

Other members of the village board who will be present Tuesday are: Melvin Doogan, Joseph Lebens, Ike Cleveland, Lloyd Cowan and George Granat. Village clerk Kenneth Halvorson also will attend.

"We are all elated that work is to be started on a sewage treatment plant," Mayor Schussler said yesterday, "as it marks a step forward. Orland Park is growing rapidly and we must be prepared to keep up with the demands that a larger population entails."

He pointed out that the building of a sewage treatment plant by the sanitary district will make a vast difference in the amount the village will have to spend in establishing a sanitary sewer system.

Martin P. Mackay will be added to the business department and Lloyd Dale Provow to the English department.

Mr. Mackay is a resident of Joliet and attended Joliet high school and junior college. He was graduated from Northern Illinois university at DeKalb, in June, 1958 with a B. S. degree in business education. Mackay finished his active military service last week. Prior to entering the field of education, Mackay was employed as a dispatch manager at the Joliet Herald News. He did his student teaching at Lincoln-Way high school.

In addition to the classroom Mackay will be assistant coach for football and track.

Provow will be graduated from Illinois State Normal university in June with an A.

Lloyd Provow

B. degree. He attended high school at Edwardsville, Ill. He won the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers scholarship with a position among the top ten percent in Illinois high schools upon graduation from Edwardsville. A scholarship from ISNU is another accomplishment. His student teaching was completed at Provow Township in Maywood.

Both will assume their duties the first week in September.

Program Carries in Referendum 231-113; To Push Final Plans

The residents of Frankfort approved a sewer bond issue last Saturday by a vote of two to one, and work on the project will be started as soon as final plans can be completed and bids taken.

The vote on the issuance of $140,000 of general obligation bonds was:

Yes 231

No 113

The bonds thus carried by 118 votes, in sharp contrast to the election a couple of years ago when the sewer program was voted down.

Mayor George Sangmeister, in speaking for the board, expressed gratification for the vote of confidence. The board was unanimous in its support of the sewer program and the members went on record in their appreciation of the assistance given by the citizens committee and others, including Village Engineer Robert Hamilton, who presented the issue before the public so that details were clear.

The bonds have been sold but will not be delivered until the village is ready to begin the project and money is needed. In that way no interest will be charged until the bonds are in circulation.

Engineer Hamilton will begin drafting the final working plans and it is hoped to take bids and let contracts by late summer.

The village also will seek a federal grant to take care of some of the costs of the sewage treatment plant.

No funds are available at the moment, it was explained, but there is a possibility that he present congress may make an appropriation to aid in ridding streams of pollution. Sewage from Frankfort now finds its way into Hickory creek. The state sanitary water board is endeavoring to clean up Hickory creek. The action by Frankfort to build a sanitary disposal system, including a sewage treatment works, is a step in this direction so local officials believe they are entitled to aid.

If federal aid should be forthcoming Frankfort would receive some $40,000 according to Hamilton's figures, and this would aid materially in reducing the cost to householders.

It is estimated that the sewer system will cost approximately $445,000, including the cost of the treatment site, right of way, and legal and engineering fees. Most of the cost, therefore, will be met by revenue bonds or out of the money collected by the village thru the sale of water and sewer service. G. O. bonds are paid out of taxes.

On the same day that Frankfort approved the sewer program the voters of Tinley Park defeated a similar program by a vote of 1,031 to 730. The estimated cost of the Tinley project was $1,475,000.

Mokena Village Board Organizes; Mayor Names Standing Committees

Henry Shevlin, a newcomer to the village board of Mokena, and Ray Westlund and Willard Munch, incumbents who were reelected April 21, took their seats Tuesday night after having been sworn in. The action followed the canvass of the votes by the old board.

The other incumbent, Lyman Teague, was not a candidate this spring. In leaving Mr. Teague thanked the members for their cooperation during his term of office and Mayor James Marti thanked him for his service to the community.

Other members of the board are Philip Hacker, Stanley Williams and Charles Hostert. Mayor Marti reappointed Anthony Dina as director of civil defense and then announced the standing committees. (The first named in each committee is chairman.) Claims and finance: Williams Hacker, Munch; licenses: Shevlin, Williams, Hostert. Fire, water and sewers: Hacker, Westlund, Williams; police: Hacker, Westlund, Shevlin; ordinances: Shevlin, Hacker, Hostert; public property: Westlund, Hostert, Williams; nuisances: Hostert, Williams, Shevlin; building: Munch, Hacker, Shevlin; streets and alleys: Munch, Williams and Hacker.

The building committee was authorized to work out a new building code.

The board issued a permit to Sinclair Oil Co. to build a station at the northeast corner of Front street and W-16 road.

The board also adopted an ordinance annexing five parcels of property on the west side of Wolf road, at the request of the owners, George R. Krueger, Martin Medema, Jr., Frank Pretzel, Jerome Dougherty and George Dath.

Nicholas Weller and William Barenz appeared before the board to ask that a neighbor George Lauffer, be required to level off a vacant lot on Parker st. Lauffer had added fill to the lot and said that he intended to level it as soon as the village repaired a break in a tile that traverses the property.

This tile carries sewerage and surface water from the central portion of the village. There is now a break in the line with the result that there is seepage on the Lauffer lot and youngsters in the neighborhood play there. Lauffer pointed out there was little use in leveling the lot until the tile is repaired as the work would have to be done over.

In reporting on his work in the past year as director of civil defense, Mr. Dina pointed out that by having such an organization set up the village had profited in the amount of surplus goods it had obtained from the federal government for little outlay of cash. He valued the equipment at $20,000. One piece obtained was a carryall truck that cost nothing, a compressor and also a compressor tank mounted on a truck; asbestos gloves, typewriter, chlorine tester, a pavement breaker and numerous other articles. The defense unit is now negotiating for a road grader. There are 46 members enrolled in the CD first aid course, Dina said.

Herman Munk Retires After 50 Years With P.S.

Herman Munk of Mokena retired last Friday, May 1, from Commonwealth Edison Company after more than 50 years of service with the utility. He started in 1908 as an office boy in the service and repair department and later became an electrical repairman, work dispatcher and a supervisor. Last year he transferred to the overhead department as a supervisor. He worked at the Chicago Central headquarters, 5059 W. Polk st.

Flower gardening is Mr. Munk's favorite hobby and he specializes in iris and hemerocallis. He is a member of the American Iris society and attends the United Brethren Church of Frankfort. He is active in his community and he recently helped to build an artificial lake near his home. He and his wife Carrie, have been married 42 years. Their daughter, Mrs. Lorraine Clarke also lives in Mokena.

fense unit is now negotiating for a road grader. There are 46 members enrolled in the CD first aid course, Dina said.

Francis Road

Will Finish Paving This Summer

Completion of the last link in the highway from Gougar road, on the outskirts of Joliet, to Tinley Park, is set for this summer.

All that is left to be done is the blacktopping of Francis road between Mokena and Cedar road in New Lenox. Bids on this work will be opened the latter part of May by the good roads committee of the Will county board of supervisors.

At the same time this is done the county expects to surface the north and south road just east of Lincoln-Way high school, between U. S. 30 and Francis road.

The stone base course of these two thoroughfares have been packed by weather and travel and kept graded. They should make good roads, engineers believe.

With the blacktopping of the stretch between Mokena and New Lenox people in the area will have a road that will enable them to reach Joliet without joining in the tourist and truck traffic on U. S. 30.

The road comes into Tinley Park on 183rd street. It is all paved from there to Gougar road, with the exception of the piece between Cedar and Wolf roads, west of Mokena. It is expected that most local traffic traveling to and from Joliet, will use this road, except for people living in the village of New Lenox.

County Highway Engineer James Mc said that no date can be beginning the improvement of Maple road—usually referred to as Marley road—because there is still one piece of right of way to be obtained. This thoroughfare, which runs west from Wolf road to Marley, is a state aid project. So is Francis road. No bids can be taken until all the right of way needed is obtained.

It was the county's hope that the right of way question will be settled shortly so that work can be started on widening the road and putting in a base course for blacktopping, either next year or 1961. The hold out on the right of way is an insurance company where headquarters are in the east. The strip of land needed ranges from seven to 12 feet at that point.

Science Exhibit

Sandburg is Host to SW Schools

Some of the top science projects in the state will be displayed

played at Carl Sandburg high school on the evening of May 12 when the seven member schools of the Southwest Suburban Conference join together to exhibit their student's best work.

The science-math symposium, held annually by the conference will be highlighted this year by the appearance of Dr. Hubert Alyea of Princeton University. Dr. Alyea will speak at 7 pm. in the school auditorium (boy's gym) before the nearly one hundred students participating in the symposium along with anyone interested in hearing an outstanding science lecture demonstration.

The public is also invited to remain after Alyea's presentation and view the over 70 projects to be displayed in the girl's gymnasium until 9 pm. Nearly all of the projects to be displayed were awarded first places in the South Suburban District Illinois Junior Academy of Science and there by were eligible for showing in the State Fair. The state science meeting of the Academy will be held on Friday and Saturday, May 8 and 9, prior to the meeting at Sandburg.

Carl Sandburg high school is located on Route 45, La-Grange road, just north of 135th street. Anyone interested in seeing the strides made by science students this year in southwest suburban schools should make every effort to attend.

Rich township, Bremen town ship, Lincoln-Way, Reavis, Oak Lawn, Evergreen Park and Sandburg make up the Conference.

Kids and Bikes

PTA Sponsoring Safety Program

The Parent Teacher Association of New Lenox is sponsoring a bicycle safety program which will provide the following: Bicycle registration and inspection, teaching the "Rules of the Road for Bicycles," the meaning of standard high way signs, performance and skill testing, and issuing bicycle licenses and operator permits.

The latter will be issued free to all children enrolling and completing the course.

The first step in this program is to establish a committee for bicycle safety. The committee is composed of chief of police George Kennedy, policeman Joseph Wachert, Illinois State troopers William Hecht, James Brockman, and Robert Woods, school superintendent John Oster and assistant superintendent Mile Kruck of Oakview and Haven school, also Father Dennis Hall of St. Jude's school, and PTA safety chairman James R. Sampson.

A safety talk was given to the school children by the law enforcing officers and the PTA safety chairman.

The registration, inspection and testing phase is scheduled to begin May 7, in the Oakview school yard, supervised by state troopers, police, faculty, PTA members and residents. It is expected approximately 800 children will avail themselves of the opportunity to be tested and licensed.

The tentative schedule calls for completion of the program by May 15, with issuance of licenses and permits at a ceremony conducted by the adults cooperating in the program.

ONE STILL HOSPITALIZED as a result of this two car collision which took place on Wednesday of last week (April 29) on U.S. 30 about three quarters of a mile west of Wolf road, injuring four. Philip Johnson, 14, is in Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, but his condition is reported as improved. Philip was a passenger in a car driven by his mother, Mrs. Antoinette Olivia Johnson, who is shown in this picture talking with an unidentified motorist. Also in the car was Mrs. Johnson's other son, Andrew, 17. Mrs. Johnson is a missionary for the Assembly of God church, recently returned from Brazil. She was enroute to Seattle, Wash. in a car she had purchased the day previously in Michigan. The driver of the other car was James Bailey, 26, of Rockford. The injured were treated at Silver Cross and all released but Philip. He has head injuries. (Marvin Smith photo)

Frankfort Board Would Cut Speed On Nebraska St.

The state highway department has decided that 30 miles an hour is not too fast for traffic to move in Nebraska street in Frankfort, one of the business streets of the town, and the village board is now endeavoring to get the Illinois engineers who fixed the limit to change their minds.

A 30-mile speed is too fast in the vicinity of the clinic and bank, village officials agree. They would also have the state put up a warning sign that a stop sign was ahead of motorists traveling north on White street where that thoroughfare meets U.S. 45. The village board asked permission to add a section of unused alley to the parking lot it is installing on property purchased across the street.

Village attorney Albert H. Krusemark reported to the board that the condemnation proceedings against a piece of property that now blocks the east end of Kansas street is on the circuit court calendar for the May term which means that it probably will be reached in June. Krusemark also reported that the state will allow the village to use motor fuel tax funds to straighten out this street.

The board had to agree to straighten this street, according to the members, in order to get Arthur Bauch to complete the sale of property to Superior Match for a plant site. The board did not want the village to lose the match factory.

Krusemark was authorized to employ an outside appraiser in the condemnation proceeding if a local man declines to act.

Krusemark and Mayor Geo. Sangmeister, and Trustee John Topp plan to attend an ICC hearing June 9 at 160 N. LaSalle st., Chicago. The New York Central railroad would abandon Frankfort as an agency. The village board would have the agency status continue.

Amos D. Massey, new member of the board, suggested that the village talk with the railroad concerning a transfer of the lease, now held by the Lions club, on a portion of the railroad's property along Kansas street. The Lions club used the property for a skating rink but is prepared to transfer the rink to the park and turn the Kansas street frontage over to the village for off-street parking.

Trustee Glenn Warning recommended that the board give consideration to a plan for taking over the old tile lines when the sewers are built and maintain them to carry off storm water. A study is to be made.

Trustee Clyde Reils was authorized to discuss arrangements whereby the park ball diamond could be allotted to various teams and to report back to the board. The village wants some arrangement made whereby the teams using the diamond would pay for the lights and aid in keeping the diamond in condition. The village has no money for such purposes.

Reils, Topp and Massey, elected to the board April 21, have begun their new terms. Massey is a newcomer. The other two were incumbents.

Parents Night Success at L-W

Earl Dieken, assistant principal at Lincoln-Way high school, described the April 28 and 30 meetings with next year's freshman parents "a success." "We had a fine response with at least 120 families represented. Actually, it is the best response on record," he continued.

The teachers involved felt that it was an enjoyable experience. They were happy to get acquainted with the new Lincoln-Way parents. The purpose of the parent and faculty meetings was to interpret the test scores which the 8th graders made in tests taken at Lincoln-Way on Step Up day. Also, to acquaint the parents with their child's schedule for next year.

Next fall, prior to the first report card, the parents will be invited to school for an evening with the freshman teachers. At this meeting the initial progress of the student will be discussed.

The student Future Teachers Association acted as guides for the parents during the two evenings.

Petitions for Park District Ready to File

Petitions asking that a referendum be called so Mokena area voters can express themselves on the proposed establishment of a park district were scheduled to be filed this week or the first of next.

Attorney Ray Hoolehan, who is representing those interested in the park district project will file a motion with the petition asking County Judge John C. Cowing to fix a date for a hearing at which it will be determined if the petitions are sufficient—which is to say that they are properly drawn up and contain enough signatures.

Charles Swanberg, who has been active in circulating the petitions, said that more than 200 signatures have been obtained. One hundred signatures are sufficient, he said. Mr. Swanberg added that the petitions were circulated throughout the area in the proposed park district, which roughly covers a radius of two miles around Mokena. Thus, he said, they have farmers and outlying residents represented among the petitioners as well as people from the village.

If the petition is found sufficient the court then sets an election day. Such a date must fall within a 60 day period after the hearing date. Nominating petitions for candidates for the park board would also be filed so that voters can ballot on them as well as the question of forming a park district.

Thus, if the formation of a district is approved there will be a board ready to serve it.

Swanberg appeared before the Mokena village board Tuesday night and said that by starting now it would be possible for a park board to be functioning before Sept. 1 so it could adopt a tax levy ordinance in time to have money available next year.

Top levy, under the law, would be eight cents per $100 of assessed valuation. Those backing the program here believe that the levy would be held down to around two cents per $100 valuation.

The Mokena community park is comprised of 23 acres, title to which is held by the Mokena Civic Association. The Association is on record as prepared to transfer title to a park district, without cost.

Members of the civic group are now engaged in telling the story of the proposed park district to various organizations in the village and the area, including church groups.

Community park at Mokena is now looked after by a committee or commission elected by the Civic Association but the only money available for its maintenance comes thru donations.

The park commission has enough funds on hand now, Mr. Swanberg said, to pay the salary of a recreation supervisor for eight weeks this summer and purchase some bats, balls and other equipment. Marilyn Boleman, who has directed recreational activities at the park for the past two years, will be in charge again this summer.

"If the public will support the administration's effort to eliminate all unnecessary spending, Congress will respond,"—Sen. W. F. Bennett. "Religion may be learned on Sunday, but it is lived in the week-day's work."

Reduce Price of "Geneva Jaunt" For Students

May 29 marks the date of the Carl Sandburg High school prom, a gala affair, followed by the Geneva Jaunt. Previously the price for the Jaunt was set for $12.50 per person prom. However, because of the plus a $1.50 a couple for the various fund raising activities—gym jams, candy sales, a spaghetti dinner, taffy apples and donations from interested parents—the price has been lowered to $10 a person for the Jaunt and the same $1.50 for the prom bid.

This trip to Lake Geneva is not only very inexpensive in comparison with the spending of nearly $80 in previous years on prom night, but it provides a safer and happier time for all who attend. For those who think the price is too high don't forget the Employment Bureau. There are people calling regularly for student help.

The prom begins at 8 p.m. and continues its glorious festivities until the bewitching hour of 12. From the prom, the dance at Southmoor Country Club, the students will go to the school to change into sport clothes.

As the evening progresses the students will depart from school about 1 a.m. on police escorted buses to DesPlaines. The Northwestern train consists of extra long cars for dancing to Don Carron's band, lounging cars for those who like sitting and chatting and eating cars with food furnished by MacKenzie's Restaurant on 143rd in Orland Park and a parlor car with two nurses for anyone who may not feel up to par. The fantastical evening will be topped off with fathers as waiters on the train

The invocation will be given by the Rev. Kenneth Crandall, pastor of Tinley Park Methodist church. The general arrangements chairman is Mrs. Gunnard Johnson, food committee chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Schmudde, and exhibits by Mrs. Delbert Pearce and Mrs. Raymond Moore.

Installation of officers will be by Mrs. Fred Millard, director of District 19.

Installed as Governor of Harvey Moose

Edward Scully of Homewood was installed as governor of Harvey Lodge 1203, Loyal Order of Moose on April 29. The installing officer and guest speaker for the ceremony was Earle W. Horton, director of conservation enrollment at Mooseheart.

The outgoing governor, G. K. Miller was presented with a gift from the Harvey Lodge and chapter.

The destination is George Williams College Camp in Lake Geneva for a day of swimming, boating, tennis, golf and lounging. Breakfast will be served upon arrival and at noon a Western style barbecue beef will be served. The train leaves for Des Plaines about 1 p.m. and will arrive at school at approximately 4 p.m.

Because the time of the prom is so near, the intricate details are now being planned. May 9 and 10 the committees are assembling to construct the decorations for the cars; the food committee is planning a tasteful menu and the personnel committee is arranging the trip.

A down payment of at least for parents to chaperone on $3 per couple must be made by May 13. This is necessary to assure a reservation as George Williams college camp must be notified by that date.

The Wrights' first plane built for the Army cost $25,000. A World War II heavy bomber cost $200,000 and a new B-52 costs over $7,000,000.

Miss Jacquelyn Dorothy McGinnis became the bride of Robert Eugene Smith, both of Mokena, at rites April 18 in the Mokena Methodist church. The Rev. Jerald Jackson performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Steinmetz, 33 Denny ave., Mokena. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hamlin, 5100 W. 159th st., Oak Forest.

Flowers and palms graced the altar and the pews were marked by ribbons. Soloist was Mrs. Marie Sciaroni of Chicago, who sang "I Love You Truly," "Because" and the "Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Wesley Sievert at the organ.

The bride wore a white embroidered princess style lace gown, a sequin tiara and veil. Her flowers were African lilies, stephanotis and lirioidendrons spray.

The matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Patricia Ann Heise of Minneapolis, Minn. She wore a princess style blue lace gown and carried blue carnations in cascade style.

The three bridesmaids were colorfully gowned in princess style lace gowns. Joyce Zartman's was in pink, Dorothy Ingram's in yellow, and Sheila Swanburg's in lavender. All wore matching hats and gloves and carried matching flowers of carnations, cascade style.

The flower girl, Carolyn Heise, a niece of the bride, wore blue organza with matching head band of carnations.

The ringbearer was James Williams of Chicago, a cousin of the bride.

Serving the groom as best man was John Holman of Chicago. Ushers were Herbert Meinert, Howard Meinert, Kenneth Farrington and Ralph Swanburg.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Steinmetz wore a blue lace dress and corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother wore a blue linen and lace dress and corsage of yellow roses. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Nielsen, of Mokena, wore a blue and green chiffon dress and a corsage of pink roses.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held at the VFW hall, Mokena, where a buffet dinner was served. A 4-tiered wedding cake with the traditional miniature bride and groom on top, was also served to guests. Music was provided by Carl Schramm of Harvey. Supervising the guest book was Rose Mary Dempsey.

The young couple is honeymooning for three weeks in California. When they left by auto, the bride was wearing a navy blue suit, red shoes and carried a red purse. The groom was wearing a navy blue suit. When they return they will live at 54 N. Mokena st., Mokena.

Rev. Robert L. Plastow officiated at the candlelight double ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with bouquets of white flowers. The organist, Mrs. Pat Adams played selections while the guests assembled and accompanied Royal Glahn as he sang "O Perfect Love," and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride, escorted by her father, looked lovely in her chapel train gown of silk organza. Her fingertip veil was held by a crown of seeded pearls. She carried a spray of white roses centered with a white orchid and wore pearl earrings, a gift of the groom.

Alice Ginther, cousin of the groom, was maid of honor and wore a sapphire blue waltz length gown of chiffon. She wore a matching picture hat and carried a spray of pink carnations. Elmer Ginther served his cousin as best man. They wore summer formals.

Sandburg Shows Plenty Power at Plate

Carl Sandburg continued its winning ways and remained very much in the thick of the fight for the SWS crown by defeating Lincoln-Way decisively, 14-1.

Sandburg is in the tie with Bremen, Rich and Oak Lawn for first place in the SWS.

The Eagles jumped on Lincoln-Way starter Ron Yunker for five big runs in the first inning. Two Knight errors put the clincher on Yunker in that first session.

Don Carter came on to pitch in the second frame and he was treated a little lighter as the high-flying Eagles scored just three tallies.

Lincoln-Way scored its lone marker in the third inning and Carter was strong enough to thwart the Eagle in the 3rd. However, the Orland bats began to boom the next inning. Carter found the bases loaded with one out. Jonas Lashmet, Knight coach, sent in a young man by the name of Kooyenga, who felt the fury of the Eagle beaks by watching five runs parade across the plate.

In the 4th, Siemen of Sandburg cracked out a grand slammer, first in this section of the SWS. He plays left field for the Sandburg team.

Rubber-arm Phil Yurtis was strong enough to beat the black Knights of Lincoln-Way again. He gave up four hits and one run—continuing as one of the winningest pitchers in the circuit. Yurtis is extremely adequate.

Sandburg will have more difficulty beating Oak Lawn, the next time they meet. However, many think the Eagles have the momentum to take the Spartans. It looks more

Orland Small Fry Need Help

The Orland Youth association will sponsor a Booster Day this Friday May 8 when the boys of the Small Fry baseball league will go from door to door in Orland Park to sell Booster stickers. The selling campaign will take place between the hours of 6 and 8 p.m.

The purpose of the campaign is to raise sufficient funds for the Small Frys activities this summer.

Bill Fisher, one of the very few men working on the committee for these young boys, stated that many more fathers are urgently needed to help in this work. There are 120 boys in the league now with more coming in this weekend. There are 45 nine-year old boys and if anyone has ever worked with half a dozen young they will know what active boys are, but 45 or 120—yes they do need more fathers, and many more. If any will come forward and volunteer, call Bill Fisher.

The ball field used last year has suffered with snow mold and therefore requires much work to prepare it for use this summer.

and more like a dual battle between the cross country rivals of Orland Bluff and the Midlothian Valley lads for the SWS.

Eagles Hosts in District Golf; 19 Schools Are Entered in Meet

Joliet Catholic, Joliet Township and Lockport high school will lead a field of 19 teams in the Carl Sandburg district golf tournament tomorrow, May 8 at Glen Eagles golf club, 123rd and Bell rd., Lemont.

Joliet Catholic reigns as the state champ of Illinois and is expected to be in strong contention this year. However, its hometown rival, Joliet Township, won in a dual meet to break a long string of Catholic victories.

In a triangular meet among the Joliet teams and Lockport, Joliet Catholic came out on top. Sandburg Coach Jim Zimmerman lists his Eagle squad as a dark horse contender.

Each team entered is limited to ten men. The matches are over 18 holes with the four lowest gross scores to count for each team. The matches will be played over the No. 2 Glen Eagles course which has a 72 par.

The top team automatically advances to state finals competition on the following week-end, but any team shooting 312 for four men or under may qualify. This allows four over par for each individual, on an average.

The four low individuals automatically qualify along with any individual shooting 76, four over par, or under. Medals will be awarded to the four low men and the four low men on the championship and runner up teams. A trophy will also be presented to the winning team.

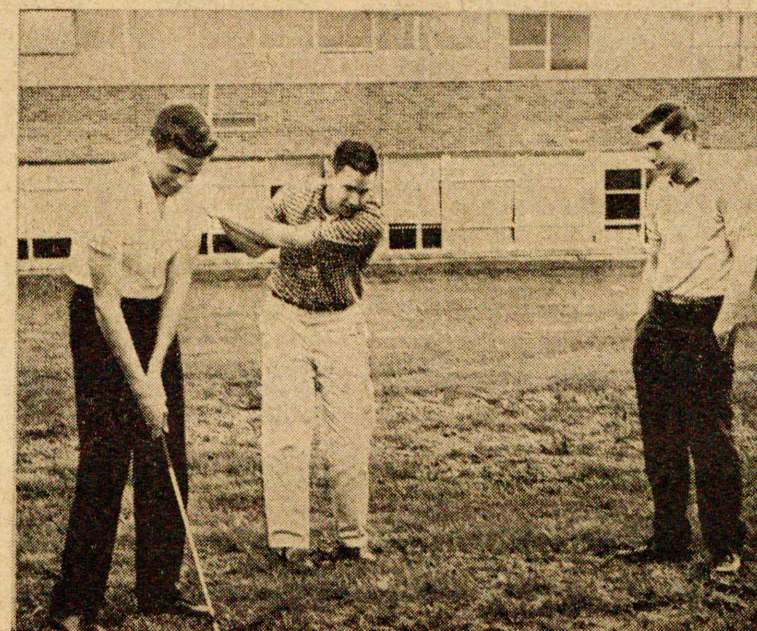

The complete list of schools entered and the number of players is as follows:

Thornton township (10), Lockport (10), Joliet township (10), Carl Sandburg (10), Blue Island (10), Bloom (10), Joliet Catholic (9), Crete (7), Ottawa (6), Reavis (6), Kankakee (6), Bradley (5), Morris (4), Dwight (3), Beecher (3), Lemont (3), Bremen (1).

Most of the above teams were entered in the Kankakee district tourney last year. This is the first year Sandburg has been the host school, Sandburg and other suburban schools in the southwest suburban conference have played in the LaGrange tourney in past years.

Broken Leg Puts Hartman on Bench

Jim Hartman, excellent shortstop for the Bremen Braves, is lost for the season. Jim had his ankle broken in a game with Carl Sandburg. Hartman was hitting over .500 at the time.

He is considered by many as a real spark plug in the Braves explosive attack. The loss is a definite blow to the Braves chances to going farther than the SW Suburban conference crown.

12 Represent Lincoln-Way at Science Fair

The Future Farmers of America chapter at Lincoln-Way high school, which is ranked among the top 5% in the state and as such has received a state certificate of merit, added to its laurels at the Section 10 Foundations Awards just concluded at St. Anne high school.

Lincoln-Way FFA entries won 3 of the 10 top places available at the St. Anne competition.

Twenty-two of the 25 schools in the section participated and L-W made the best showing in its history. Bryan Smith of Manhattan was the winner in the soybean production; Glen Patterson, Frankfort, was first in poultry production and Don Waldvogel of New Lenox swept the field with his work on electrification.

There have been few schools, it was said, to score as many wins in such competition as L-W.

The winning trio advanced to the district contest, which was held yesterday.

The awards will be given at the FFA state convention at Springfield in June.

THERE ARE MORE STRANGE THINGS betwixt heaven and earth and some of them happen in baseball games. Some happen so fast the eye can't freeze them but the camera can, as for instance here. The Lincoln-Way batter, unidentified, had just laid down a bunt and started for first base and at the same time Jerry Hosier, Sandburg catcher, started out for the ball. The result is that Hosier would appear to have a foot growing out of his left sleeve and running on three legs. (Marvin Smith photo)

Can Control Tree Beetles by Proper Care

By JAMES FIZZELL
Assistant Farm Adviser
Young trees, particularly maples, locusts and ashes as well as many others are susceptible to borer attack.

There are many types of borers which attack trees, but all cause serious damage and even death of valuable plants. The adult borers are either

In Memoriam

ROEMER, Kenneth W., In loving memory of our husband and father who passed away May 7, 1958.

I cannot say, and I will not say
That he is dead—he is just away!
With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand,
He has wandered into an unknown land,
And left us dreaming how very fair
It needs must be, since he lingers there,
And you, O you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return—
Think of him faring on, as dear
In the love of there as the love of here;
Think of him still as the same, I say:
He is not dead—he is just away!

moths or beetles dependent on the type. Eggs are laid on the bark of the tree where young worms hatch and immediately begin boring thru the bark. The larvae may remain just below the bark feeding on the sapwood or may burrow as far as the center of the branch.

Prevention of borer attack is more successful than attempts at a cure. To discourage borer attack keep the trunks of newly set trees wrapped with heavy paper for the first two years, or until the trees are established and growing vigorously. Special paper, three to four inches wide, in rolls suitable for spiral wraps can be purchased. Start the wrap just below the lowest branch and spiral it downward to the ground. Heap soil around the base of the tree to close the space between the wrap and the ground. Secure the wrapping in place with stout twine. Keep the soil well watered, as drought-weakened trees are attractive to borers.

Borer attack can be prevented, for the most part, by a DDT spray applied to tree trunks; four pounds of 50% DDT wettable powder or one gallon of 25% DDT emulsifiable concentrate to 100 gallons of water. Designed to kill young borers as they hatch from eggs on the bark, the spray should be applied at monthly intervals throughout the summer, beginning about May 1. Application of DDT to the entire tree is not recommended unless necessary, as such application may result in serious infestations of mites and aphids.

A durable insecticide deposit can be made from DDT, powdered skim milk, and water. To a mixture of four parts of 50 percent DDT wettable powder and one part of powdered skim milk, enough water is added to make a smooth slurry that can be applied to the trunks of trees with a paint brush. Dead and dying branches should be pruned from infested trees and burned. Borers in the wood can be killed if the tunnels are cleaned out with a piece of wire and carbon disulfide or nicotine sulfate is injected into the holes with an oil can. The holes should be plugged with "TIME OUT FOR GINGER" is the title of the Carl Sandburg Drama club's spring play to be staged in the school auditorium tomorrow and Saturday nights (May 8 and 9) and if the weather is as warm then as it was the first part of the week, Bea Yurtis, a sophomore from Palos Heights, who is in the title role, will be glad to take time out to change from a football suit to something light and cool in the dress line. The Ginger in the play has an ambition to play high school football.

This picture also shows that a publicity man never spares himself in dreaming up something to clinch space. "Look, now, Ginger," he ordered a few days ago when the mercury was doing nip-ups in the 90's, "climb into your football togs and we'll get a publicity shot."

So Miss Yurtis obliged, and youth being what it is, full of zip and vim, she managed to give a big smile as if she really enjoyed being bundled up in shoulder pads, sweater and a helmet that was hotter than a hair drier. The publicity man, however, was used up. It made him hot and uncomfortable to see anyone dressed like that with the temperature and humidity in a high mood, but he had a job to do and he couldn't shirk it.

Study Problems on Obtaining St. Lawrence Seaway Trade Here

(CNB) The Illinois-Indiana Bi-state Development and Study commission has submitted its report on the problems involved in obtaining Saint Lawrence Seaway trade for the lower Lake Michigan area to the Illinois State legislature and Gov. Stratton.

The report called for a single, permanent bi-state agency which would be independent and approach port problems on a regional basis. The 165 page report said, however, that Indiana's interest in the development of a lakefront harbor east of Gary has eliminated any chance of bi-state legislation in the current session of the Indiana state legislature. The fears of Indiana, the report claimed, were that the creation of a bi-state agency might delay the development of the lakefront harbor east of Gary.

Not only did the commission recommend the eventual development of an Illinois-Indiana bi-state development commission but it also suggested the formation of the "Illinois-Indiana Bi-state Development District." The district would consist of the territorial waters of Lake Michigan within the boundaries of the two states, including the counties of DuPage, Lake, Cook, Will, and Kane in Illinois and counties of Lake, Porter and LaPorte in Indiana.

The proposed district would be composed of ten members, five from each state who are appointed by the governors. Those appointments would be approved by the respective state legislatures. The district would prepare a comprehensive port development plan for the area in cooperation with port agencies that already exist. Its job would be to map out the port commission and that in turn will work with Gov. Handley's committee. The study committee facilities that are needed in the next 15 or 20 years. The job of the proposed Bi-State commission would be to conduct a study of the problems involved in obtaining for the lower Lake Michigan area its rightful share of trade and commerce arising out of the St. Lawrence seaway.

New Way to Use Make-up "Changes" the Shape of Your Face!

DuBarry "Contour Make-up" Expert
Here For Consultation

If you've always wished you had that perfect "oval" face, here at last is a chance to do something about it.

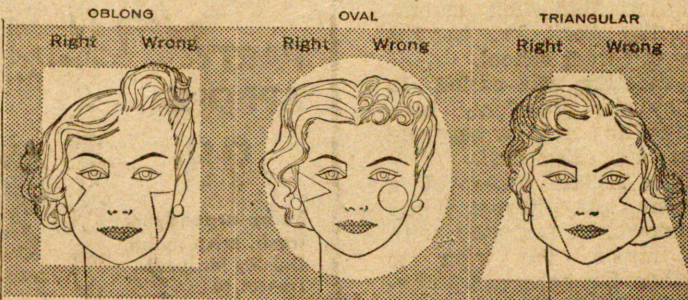

Now there's a new way to apply rouge, lipstick and other beauty aids so you create the illusion of more perfectly proportioned contours—minimizing less than perfect features and playing up your own prettiest points! Called "Contour Make-up" it's based on individual analysis to find out which of six basic face types is yours. Then on a diagram which you take home, you are shown a few easy tricks of make-up and hair-styling which can quickly make a world of difference in your looks. There's no charge for this lesson in how to be prettier—based on this series of charts which show some of the beauty "rights" and "wrongs" you'll learn.

Heart Shape: Rouge worn high detracts from pointed chin and long hair balances wide forehead. Bringing eyebrow out to corner of eye makes upper face seem narrower.

Round: Length can be added to round face by an upswept hairdo and a shadowing of rouge. The lips are extended and narrowed to lend an optical illusion of ovalness.

Square: A square face can be narrowed by a large shadow of rouge and by hair worn high. Long hair accentuates width of the face. Contrast this with left side of her face.

Oblong: Upswept hair lengthens a face that should be shorter. Placing rouge high and raising the lip lines also makes the face appear less long and narrow.

Oval: Even the oval face can be spoiled by improper makeup. Here lips are widened to balance lower part of the face and rouge is placed high and angular.

Triangular: The prominent jaw can be put in better proportion by a large shadow of rouge. Hair worn short and close fills out face where width is needed.

Don't miss this chance for a consultation with the DuBarry Contour Make-up Expert, who will be in our Cosmetics Department all this week.

The first of three share-the-fun festivals was held last week in Park Forest. The 4-H'ers put on a real line show. Mary Ann Stephens, Park Forest 4-H adviser, and the Park Forest 4-H council with Ty Thompson, chairman are to be congratulated for this outstanding 4-H event in Park Forest. The next share-the-fun program will be held Tuesday, May 12 at the Central School in Tinley Park. 4-H'ers from the southern part of Cook county will parade their talents at this festival.

The June 1 deadline for 4-H enrollments is only a month away. Any boy or girl desiring to take advantage of the fun, fellowship and education of 4-H club work, should plan to do so right away. For additional information about starting a 4-H club in your community, contact me at the Farm Bureau office in Tinley Park.

It is wishful thinking to believe that research in industrial uses for agricultural products will solve the agricultural surplus problem. Considerable progress has been made but the inherent nature of farm products plus uncertain supply and limited use of by-products make this proposed solution for the farm problem something less than perfect.

About 15,000 folks await agricultural college graduates each year, but ag colleges are only graduating about half the number of persons needed annually.

Vegetable growers in this area may be interested in receiving a weekly bulletin on the Illinois vegetable situation. This bulletin is written by specialists from the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, and is designed to keep the commercial vegetable grower informed of current trends in insect and disease situations. In addition, timely production tips are presented in the bulletin. Any interested person may subscribe. To do so, send your name and address to: Bulletin, 208 Vegetable Crops Bldg., University of Illinois, Urbana. Cost is $2. Make checks payable to: University of Illinois.

SKY'S THE LIMIT? Just when this plant will stop growing and how high it will be at that time are questions for which the owner, Mrs. John Swisher (seated), 7015 173rd Place, Tinley Park, would like to have the answers. It is called a cobra plant and the blossoms have markings similar in design to a snake's skin. In three weeks the plant grew from zero height to 38 inches and when this picture was taken last Saturday the thing was still growing. The young lady whose curiosity is roused and is pointing as she asks, "What's that?" is Janice Swisher, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Swisher. (Marvin Smith photo)

900 Visitors Tour Hospital At Open House

Tinley Park State Hospitals second annual open house, last Sunday, May 3, was attended by some 900 visitors. Those who visited the hospital were given a concise, but thorough explanation of institutional life in a mental hospital by means of interesting display material. Tours were conducted through ward and administrative areas of the hospital.

John L. Cutler, M. D., superintendent, stated, "I am most grateful for the wonderful interest the public expressed in the hospital's second open house. The great number of people who took the time to tour the hospital this past Sunday, deserve a tribute for their interest and concern in what we at the hospital are doing for the mentally ill. My personal thanks to everyone who came to visit and talk with us."

Open house activity is an annual affair in all of the state's mental hospitals. Open house is in observance of the eleventh annual Mental Week, proclaimed by Governor Stratton.

The purpose of these observances is to promote greater understanding of mental illness by bringing about closer cooperation between the community and the hospital.

Students at Sandburg to Display Work

A display of over 200 pieces of work done by students in art, shop, home economic and business courses will be displayed at the May 21 meeting of the Carl Sandburg high school Parent Teachers Association meeting.

An exhibition of 25 original paintings by J. Francis Chase, noted illustrator who has recently moved to the Palos Orland area (147th and Will-Cook road), will also be presented for public viewing.

According to the art department chairman, Martin Suchor, the art work will be displayed on plywood "islands" so as to allow spectators to view the exhibits freely. More than 15 different techniques will be represented including oil and water paintings, mosaics, wood carvings and other fine arts products.

Four different table settings will be among the home economics exhibits together with garments modeled by students. From the industrial arts department will be work turned out in woods, metals, electric and drafting shops. Floor plans, furniture, wood and wrought iron are among the shop projects selected.

Demonstrations will be set up by the commerce classes along with samples of the class work in the business education department.

New City Council Takes Seats; Standing Committees Appointed

By EVELYN VAN HORN
Sycamore 8-8921

The last meeting of the Country Club Hills first city council was called to order by Alderman Ray Hoewing, temporary chairman, in the absence of the mayor, who was indisposed.

Election returns were canvassed and a resolution passed naming the new officials of the city. The council then adjourned.

The oath of office was administered to the new officers by Police Magistrate Duerinck, who had been sworn in previously. He administered the oath to City Clerk, Virginia Benison who in turn swore in Mayor James Nally, William Baader, city treasurer, and Aldermen Donald West, Daniel Kelley, Ray Gaertner, Clinton Nelson, James O'Connell and Ray Hoewing. Magistrate Duerinck made a presentation speech and then requested Mrs. Nally present the gavel to her husband.

Mayor Nally said he hoped this council would take the fiscal responsibilities as seriously as did the previous council and stand strong against floating bonds or tax anticipation warrants.

Committee appointments announced by Mayor Nally are:

Finance, Kelley, chairman, O'Connell, Hoewing; Law and Ordinance, Kelley chairman, West, Hoewing, Streets, street lights, bridges and sidewalks: Gaertner, chairman, West and Hoewing, Water supply, health sewage and drainage: Nelson, chairman, O'Connell, West.

Plats, public grounds and buildings: Gaertner, chairman, Kelley, West, Police and fire protection: Hoewing, chairman, Kelley, O'Connell. Licenses and printing: West, chairman, Gaertner, Nelson. Appropriations: O'Connell, chairman, Nelson, Gaertner.

Community liaison, Hoewing, chairman, Gaertner, Kelley, O'Connell.

Commission appointments will be concluded by Friday to be confirmed at Monday's council meeting.

Ottmer Becker, building commissioner, told about the problems developing in his job. He recommends appointment of an inspector, available one or two days a week, since all inspections have to be made in daytime.

Before adjournment, Mayor Nally, thanked the former members of the council for the work they had done and Alderman Kelley, in behalf of the incoming council, asked that a letter of thanks be addressed to the former members of the council.

Last week the city council, acting as a committee as a whole, inspected streets and bridges. Estimates on the necessary repairs on streets accepted by the city are now being taken.

An announcement to all residents of the city about the dog ordinance now in effect and the date of the mass inoculation and licensing, will be made soon.

Roman Catholic Census
The Roman Catholic committee is conducting a census, gathering information to determine if the community can support a church. Any Catholic family not contacted may call James Nally.

United Christian Church
A service of child dedication is being planned for Mother's Day, May 10, for any parents who wish to have their children take part. They are asked to contact the Rev. Wendell Pew for further information.

The initial work of the finance committee was presented to the executive committee this past week for consideration. Plans are to present this for a congregational vote May 24. The finance committee will meet again May 12 at 8:30 p. m.

The Christian Womens Fellowship groups will meet next week; the Naomi group will meet with Mrs. Don Wilson; Joanna group with Mrs. George Shaffner, the Esther group will meet with Mrs. J. Staska.

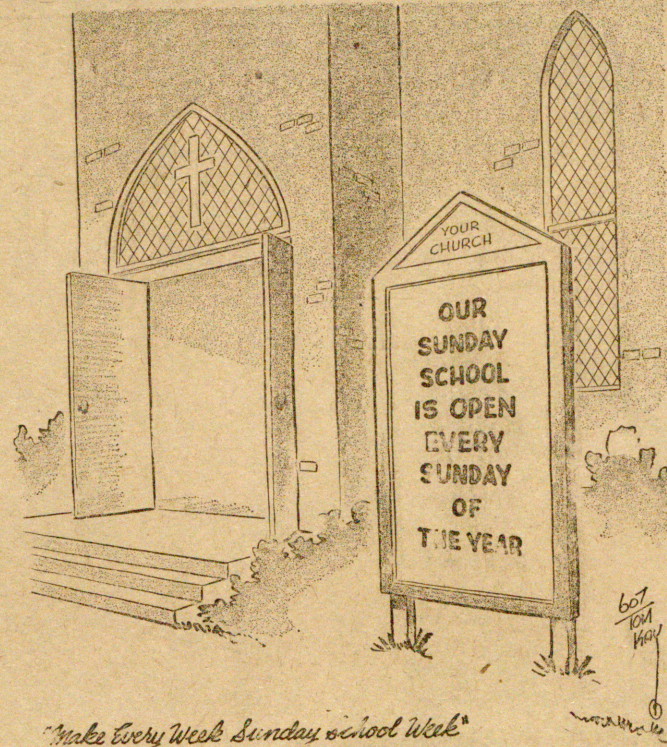

The United Christian church is grateful to the community for the fine spirit of cooperation shown during the telephone census, now completed. The results will be made available to the Homeowner's association for whatever use they may have for it.

I have been requested to ask any person who is a qualified nurse or nurses aid, residing in Units III and IV, to please contact me, or if anyone knows of a nurse or nurse's aid, to let me know their name and phone number. Often times an emergency occurs where the help of one so qualified until a doctor can be called or the emergency case taken to the hospital, would be of great value.

Boy Scouts
The Boy Scouts are planning to camp out overnight Saturday, May 16. They will leave from the Lutheran church, 183rd st. at 7 a.m. All boys going will be required to have their permission slips with them or they will not be allowed to go.

The Boy Scout committee was held at the home of Rob-

The next committee meeting will be June 2 in the home of Cole Keyes at 8 p.m.

Girl Scouts
The Girl Scout committee met in the home of Mrs. Dan Feikert. Plans were made for a potluck supper to be held in Mrs. Robert Hollenbaugh's home May 27 at 8 p.m. The committee stated that the cookie sale was a success due to the cooperation of the community.

Day Camp for the Girl Scouts and Brownies will begin in June. Special training sessions have been set up for volunteer workers, which will include about 15 hours of 3 hour sessions to be held at the Home-wood village hall May 7, 12, and 14. The last session will be held on the camp site, date not yet set.

Graduation Plans Underway
Plans are being formulated for the 8th grade graduation at the Country Club Hills school to be held Friday evening, May 29.

Enrollment of the children who will attend kindergarten next term will be held May 26, as well as children who will be starting first grade in September, but who have not attended kindergarten this year will be enrolled May 26. Joseph Dawson, one of the Junior high teachers, has entered Oak Park hospital for surgery. Although he will not be back the rest of this term, he plans on returning to his classes in the fall.

Party in Control of Congress? The "Spendocrats", Says Mason

By CONG. N. M. MASON

Your government and mine has spent more money than it has collected in twenty out of the last twenty-five years. We have borrowed on the credit of future generations to the tune of $235 billion. To wipe the slate clean every man, woman and child would have to pay $1,600. Not a very pleasant picture, is it?

This is not all due to spending for national defense, atomic energy, and foreign aid. Non-defense expenditures total $31.2 billion — the highest in history, three times as much as it was in 1945. Yet many Democrat members of congress have interpreted the results of the last election as a mandate to spend, spend, SPEND!

The senate has passed the Democrat housing bill which calls for an expenditure of $2.6 billion. The writer will oppose this measure.

The President's budget message recommends new taxes on gasoline and increased postal rates, both of which the writer will oppose.

The Berlin Crisis

When General Eisenhower was in charge of the European War theatre, he developed a European plan of defense against future Soviet attacks against Europe known as the "Shield and Sword Defense Program." Simply stated, this plan provides for a small effective land army equipped with modern weapons to hold temporarily against the overwhelming land army Russia can throw against them. When the Russian forces are concentrated, attacking our smaller forces, our strategic air command now located at bases surrounding Europe, and on a 24-hour alert, will go into action with atom bombs to wipe out the Russian forces.

Khrushchev's knowledge of this plan will deter him from attacking. That was one reason why Eisenhower stated, "There will be no ground war fought in Europe."

In view of this situation in the coming conferences in Europe over the Berlin situation, our conferees — Secretary of State Herter, and later Eisenhower — will be negotiating from a "position of strength while Khrushchev will be bluffing from a position of weakness. Our military experts do not anticipate any critical war situation arising as a result of the coming conferences.

Quorum Calls, Roll Calls

The Ways and Means committee has so heavy and important a schedule of work during every session of the Congress that it is always privileged to sit while the house is in session. Your congressman is a long-time member of that committee.

When the bells in the house office buildings ring three times, it is a warning that a roll call is about to be taken — but if the Ways and Means committee is in session, the members are told in advance whether it is simply a quorum call or a roll call on legislation.

If it is a roll call on legislation the committee quits business while the members rush to the floor of the house in the capitol to answer "yea" or "nay" as their names are called.

If, on the other hand, it is merely a quorum call — to establish that a majority of house members are present —

Truck Driver, Others, Sued in Injury Case

A suit charging negligence against truck driver Hilbert Kampe of Tinley Park, the Signal Delivery Service, and Sears Roebuck Company, has been filed in Superior court as the result of a truck-trailer-home accident which occurred in Lemont Dec. 13, 1957. Signal Delivery is a subsidiary of Sears Roebuck.

The $252,000 personal injury suit was filed in behalf of Mr. and Mrs. George Plesotis and their son, Roger, all now of Ravenna, Ohio, by their attorney, Frank M. Perz of Chicago.

The suit charged that Kampe negligently backed his truck into the trailer-home which was located in a trailer camp at 1131 State street in Lemont. It charged that Phyllis, the mother, and her son were "violently thrown about" as she took a shower. The suit says the boy was 13 months old at the time.

The bill asserts that both the mother and her son suffered sprains, contusions and abrasions as a result of striking the fixtures in the shower as they fell. It complains that Roger's development and mental control has been affected by the accident.

The suit further states that the truck which Kampe allegedly drove did not have proper mirrors and that Kampe didn't keep a proper lookout and that he backed his truck at an improper speed.

In charging negligence and trespass of property the suit asks $200,000 for the mother, $50,000 for the child and $2,000 for the damaged trailer.

Editor-columnist W. R. Fitzgerald, the Nortonville, Kans., News—We ran across a refreshing thing in these inflationary times the other day. The insurance rates for getting scalped during an Indian uprising haven't gone up a cent in the last 25 years.

Scientists show us how to sail under the North Pole and fly over the moon, but you're still on your own when you cross the street."

and the Ways and Means committee is hearing important testimony, most of the members will stay in their seats on the dais and continue, with the full approval of the house, the job they are doing.

Of the 415 roll calls during the 85th Congress, 193 were upon the passage of bills and 222 were quorum calls. The two year record shows that your congressman missed more than 100 — practically all of them quorum calls.

Cong. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas, chairman of the Ways and Means committee, stated in a public telegram last year that your congressman had the best record of attendance of any member of his committee.

PRACTICAL LESSONS IN CIVICS await these three this summer. The two boys, William Dixon, 17, Lincoln Estates, (left) and Donald Waldvogel, Frankfort, will attend Boys State at Springfield this summer, and Tamarlee Trump, Frankfort, is to attend Girls State at Jacksonville. Dixon's selection was sponsored by Bobzin-Swinford post, American Legion, and the Women's Auxiliary of that post is sponsoring Tamarlee's trip to Girls State. The Will county voiture of the 40 and 8, play order of the Legion, is sponsoring Waldvogel. Rock Is. R.R. Now Serving More Than $-Billion in New Industry

In the last ten years, private industry has invested $1,740,071,288 in new plants served by the Rock Island Lines, P. J. Schmidt, the railroad's manager of industrial development, revealed today.

This investment was made in 2,868 permanent industries which have mushroomed up in the Rock Island's 14-state area. In addition, 933 temporary industries and 658 industrial expansions were constructed in Rock Island-served locations.

Rock Island operates in Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Tennessee, South Dakota, Arkansas, Colorado, Nebraska, New Mexico, Minnesota and Louisiana.

Especially laid industrial trackage to accommodate the railroad movement of manufactured goods from these plants totals 63 miles, a small railroad in itself.

Says Mr. Schmidt: "Industry today is in a state of flux. No longer has one section or sections of the country a monopoly on industrial sites. With more and more industries decentralizing and expanding their operations, the trend is toward locations where management gets the best deal in labor, tax structures, transportation facilities and all-around benefits from the state and local community. We try to help to get these things."

Cook Tax Bills Describe Lots By Numbers

Cook county's long-awaited numbering system wherein each parcel of property hereafter will be identified by a permanent number rather than by a complicated legal description, will go into effect for Chicago's 616,183 real estate taxpayers immediately, Daniel Ryan, president of the county board, announced last week.

The numbering system will be extended to the remaining 600,000 parcels of Cook county, outside of Chicago, within a year, Ryan said.

To officially inform the public of the change, Ryan directed Edmund J. Brennan, director of the county's department of central services, income is advantageous to us."

Rock Island owns more than 2,000 acres of property and working with private developers, serves over 11,000 acres available for industrial use at various points on the system.

The card will show the taxpayer's name, address, and the number which has been assigned to his property. It also will show the full legal description which hereafter is to be eliminated on the tax bills.

To avoid possible error, the card asks the taxpayer to compare the property's number with the number which has been appearing on his receipted tax bills since 1949. It should be the same.

ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE

Business and Finance

By MAURICE P. ANGLAND

To investors the electric power industry is unique in that it has characteristics of the "defensive" as well as the "growth" situation. By defensive it is meant, those industries which resist decline in times of general business stress.

In 1958 industrial production was down 6% under 1957 figures, while electrical generation rose two per cent. Industrial profits for the same period dropped 18% and utilities actually increased their net income by 7 1/2%.

As an example of the utilities resistance to decline in business, even in periods of serious business recession, their decline between 1929 and 1932 was only 14 per cent which was less than the industrial decline of 1958.

An explanation of this resistance to decline in periods of lower industrial activity is had by the fact that residential and commercial increases have been greater than the industrial use decline. Total energy sales for 1959 are expected to be 8% above 1958. A comparatively few years ago, the utilities were rather constant in showing a 5% sales increase. Now it is close to 10.

Many can recall the days when the electric generating company was known as the "light company." Until World War I, the utility daily sales curve had sharp peaks and valleys. Between the beginning of the twilight hours and bed time at about nine in the evening there was a sharp upsurge in use of electrical energy. This condition, of course, meant a low rate of use of production facilities since the plant must be equipped to meet peak loads which were used only a few hours a day.

Today the sales curve is radically changed. Industry use of electrical energy, extensive commercial use in better lighting and air conditioning, etc., and the very great increase in household power demand, has even changed peak load periods. The sharp peaks and valleys of production are gone and with this change, a much better and more effective use of plant equipment. Efficient management of our non government operated utilities has made possible the small rate increases, in comparison with soaring costs of other commodities.

With the objective of better and more consistent demand for daytime energy, the utilities have been fostering the use of more electrical equipment in the home. This campaign has been very successful.

The success can be seen in the fact that most homes have a greater investment (at retail level) in their electrical equipment than the power company has in production and distribution facilities, per household. The Commonwealth Edison investment in production and distribution facilities is about $800. If the home owner will total up his investment

Family Party Held by Maple Arbor Gleaners

By VIRGINIA SASS
New Lenox 3133

The quarterly family party of the Maple Street Arbor of Gleaners was held in the recreation room of the Homer school Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Royal Corp were chairmen of the affair. Refreshments were served buffet style. Prizes were awarded to Mary Jane Stellwagen and Henry Smith. Mrs. Angelo DePra was awarded first prize in pinocle. Harwood Stellwagen was first in Euchre and Verda Jo Sass first in buncle. Other prizes were also awarded.

The Marley Woman's Club was well represented at the Spring Tri-annual of the Will County Club League held at the Methodist church in New Lenox Tuesday. Attending from the local club were Mrs. John Hasibar, Mrs. J. S. Patric, Mrs. Adella Sproat, Mrs. Beatrice Coe, Mrs. Charles Elliott, Mrs. William Dudlick, Mrs. Glenn Smith, Mrs. Royal Corp, Mrs. Alma Brown, Mrs. Schaub and Mrs. Charles Sievert.

Laurel Jayne Sproat was honored at a family picnic in observance of her birthday at Dellwood Park in Lockport Saturday evening. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Durward Killinger and family, Mrs. Adella Sproat and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sproat and family.

Mrs. Charles Elliott attended the Open House and the Presbyterian Home in Evanston last Monday.

The Marley Missionary Soment in radio, lamps, television, toaster, coffee maker, freezer, refrigerator etc., he will find his investment in equipment using electricity to be well over $1500. This situation is unique in the investment field.

Like other privately owned firms, the utilities paid only a part of the net earnings per share of stock in dividends and put the remainder into the surplus account which was used when needed by the firm. The need of funds for expansion in new plant and equipment has been rising fast to keep up with expanding demand.

The law states the utility is entitled to fair return on its investment. Unfortunately, however, some of the political bodies have been failing to recognize that the "surplus account" in an accrual of savings by the company's stockholders, from the earnings of their investment in the firm.

Commonwealth Edison has a new policy of paying a percentage of the earnings in cash and the balance in common stock of the company. In this way the investor received the full earnings as the retained portion of earnings are capitalized as an additional investment rather than merely an addition to the surplus account. The logic is obvious. More and more utility firms are likely to follow this practice.

Officialdom to Hail Work of Safety Patrol

The 55,000 boys and girls who wear the familiar white belts of the motor club's school safety patrol in Illinois and Indiana will be honored Saturday, May 9, for their work in protecting some 1,500,000 children.

Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois, Gov. Harold W. Handley of Indiana, and Chicago's Mayor Richard J. Daley have officially proclaimed the date as School Safety Patrol Day.

J. J. Cavanagh, president of the motor club, praised the patrol for sparing the lives of some 9,000 children in the club's territory since the patrol was founded in 1922. The motor club pioneered the school safety patrol movement.

Cavanagh said, "The yearly increase in fatal or serious traffic injuries involving children has sharply reversed since the inauguration of the safety patrols." He noted that other mayors in downstate Illinois and Indiana had recognized the patrol's value thru proclamations.

"Credit also must be given to the cooperation of pupils with their patrol boys and girls. This has contributed much to the safety of our elementary and junior high school youngsters."

Members of the safety patrol sponsored by the club in its territory last year guarded children at 12,586 intersections.

The major league baseball clubs use about 64,000 balls during a season.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chladek, motored to Kalamazoo, Mich. last week where they attended a dinner and enjoyed a tour of the Upjohn Pharmaceutical plant. Thirty-one student nurses from St. Joseph's hospital also made the trip. Mr. Chladek is a pharmacist employed by Terminal Drugs in the Will County National Bank building at Joliet.

Mr. and Mrs. William Malloy entertained Sunday at a birthday dinner honoring their daughter, Betty Jane, who was 11 years old Tuesday. Guests were her grandmother, Mrs. Vera Sullivan, Mrs. Katy Whelan and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Birmingham of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Baker Jr. and family had as their guest Sunday his father, Raymond Baker Sr. of Muskegon, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown and family of Joliet have purchased the Ralph Wright home here, and upon completion of their redecorating, will move in.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Orey entertained at their home on Wednesday, May 6, at a wienner roast and party honoring their daughter Katherine, who was celebrating her 6th birthday anniversary. Guests were Karla and Cathy Baker, Susan Malloy, J. R. White, Kathy Taylor, Mark and Christine Murskyj, Steve and Mike Orey and Patty Carlisle of Mokena.

"How can I build credit standing?"

Someone once phrased the answer: "By conducting your everyday life with order and integrity." That is not too great an oversimplification. He who is careful to pay bills on time and meet obligations when due; who is vigilant to uphold his personal and business reputation, is certainly the sort of person our bank favors as a prospective borrower. THIS, TOO, IS TEXAS EASTERN

Our Pipeline Crews Start Their Spring Cleaning Early

In the northern reaches of the 6100-mile Texas Eastern gas transmission system winter is only now reluctantly laying aside its mantle of snow.

But to the South—down Texas and Louisiana way—maintenance crews of our Pipeline Department weeks ago started the Spring clean-up.

There's painting of our above-ground facilities. And with the winter run-off doing its mischief, there'll be washes to repair, clearing, terracing, seeding to do. In due time—mowing.

Maintenance, of course, is a round-the-clock, round-the-calendar job. And policing the right-of-way is only part of it. Inside and under cover there's work, too. For efficient operation and delivery of clean gas, the pipes have to be whistle-clean inside.

We keep them that way by running scrapers—or "pigs"—right along with the gas... cleaning, and removing fluid from the line, without cutting down the flow of gas.

Maintenance is not the only function of the Pipeline Department. Repairs—even some major construction—are on the list of department responsibilities.

And—coordinating with the Right-of-Way Department—our Pipeline men keep a sharp eye on developments adjacent to our lines: new construction, utility lines, highways, mining—things that might affect our operations.

All this takes manpower. It is the men of our pipeline crews—organized and stationed at strategic locations within the Company's six operating divisions who accomplish it. Any part of the system may be reached by a maintenance crew in a short length of time.

It's an important thing—this maintenance function. On it rests our ability to deliver the goods. And when the goods are a vital commodity like natural gas, delivery cannot be a sometime thing. Our clients—utility companies in Midwestern, Appalachian and Eastern Seaboard states—depend on us for delivery of gas in the quantity and of the quality ordered.

This is one of a series of monthly reports on the diversified activities of Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation.

The Sewer Question

We would like to take this opportunity to congratulate the people of Frankfort on the decision they made last Saturday in approving a bond issue to make a sewer system possible for that community.

In the face of the growth that is facing this southwest area a sewer system is a necessity as a safeguard to public health.

In approving the sewer bond issue last Saturday Frankfort has taken a forward step and in keeping with the pressure of progress, Frankfort occupies an advantageous position for attracting light industry in that it is served by two U.S. highways and two railroads, and now with a sewer system assured it can expect high consideration from firms looking for new locations.

We are sorry that the sewer referendum failed to carry at Tinley Park and hope that it will not be long before the proposal is again submitted to the people. It is also to be hoped that when the sewer question is again considered, personalities and politics are kept out of it. The community is in great need of a sewer system.

A Junior College Program

The voters of the Lockport township high school district recently approved a tax levy to defray the cost of tuition for students that reside within its boundaries who wish to attend junior college.

Such students have a choice of the institutions they wish to attend. Also they need not be graduates of Lockport township high school. The only condition to be satisfied is that they are graduates of an accredited school and have the credits which make them eligible for entry in a recognized junior college.

The maximum tax rate that can be levied for this purpose is 17½ cents per $100 of equalized assessed valuation. How much of such a rate would have to be levied would depend, of course, on the valuation of a district. In the case of the Lockport district, which has a large valuation the tax probably would be only a few cents.

There are many youngsters who would and should continue their formal education beyond high school but lack the means to meet the costs that attendance at a four-year institution would entail. If they could live at home for the first two years and have their tuition paid out of a public fund, most of them would be able to earn enough money in the interim to take their junior and senior years in an accredited college or university, with some help from their families.

There are several good junior colleges in the area so students could select the one that would be most convenient. The tuition charges are around the $500 mark per year.

None of the high school districts in this immediate area, Lincoln-Way, Carl Sandburg and Bremen, operate junior colleges so any or all of them could take advantage of the new law which permits a tax levy to meet tuition costs in such institutions.

We would not recommend that any district rush into such an arrangement, but we do feel that the program has considerable merit and is deserving of special study by the school boards and parent-teacher groups.

Then if it were believed to be a good thing and it was ascertained the cost would not be burdensome the board or boards could go to the public and explain all the details with a view of calling a referendum.

At least it won't cost the boards anything to think about it.

by?" breathed the man.

The horse smiled: "I was never entered in the Race for the Roses," he said, "which in this country is known as the Kentucky Derby or The Derby, but for us in the top flight of the profession THE Derby is the Derby, run at Epsom Downs in England, the granddaddy of all Derbys."

He cleared his throat delicately.

"I am proud to say," he went on, "that I won the Derby, in '39 it was, and I regard that as the highlight of my career."

The horse then went on to describe the race in detail and just when and where he made his move to come on to win. The man was enthralled and when the horse finished, he begged him to wait until he could see the farmer that owned him and make arrangements for his purchase.

The man tore away on foot and sped to the house. He found the farmer sitting under a shade tree with a bottle of beer in his hand. After introducing himself and remarking that he didn't care if he did, the man took a long refreshing pull from the bottle the farmer had given him and plunged into business.

Did the farmer own the horse in the pasture and would he consider selling him for, well say $5,000.

The farmer said that he did own the horse but that he wouldn't sell him for $5,000. "Ten, then," said the man. The farmer was surprised.

"Ten thousand dollars for old Fred?" the farmer said. "Why, mister, I wouldn't think of it. When I told you I wouldn't sell him for $5,000 I meant he wasn't worth that much. He's old and he can't do anything but loaf any more. And now you offer $10,000. Tell you the truth, I wouldn't sell him for any amount of money. He's been with us so long, and has become such a pet that we think of him as a part of the family and I wouldn't part with him. But as far as being worth any big sum of money, he just isn't. What in the world do you want with Fred that you are willing to pay $10,000 for him or even $100, as far as that goes."

Hope of riches and conscience wrestled briefly and conscience won.

"Well, I'll tell you something," the visitor said. That horse can talk. Did you know that?"

"Oh that," and the farmer laughed. "Sure, I knew that." He studied his visitor's face a moment.

"Say," he said delightedly, and slapped his knee. "I'll bet old Fred told you he won the English Derby. He's a nice horse but he's an awful liar at times. No, mister. I won't sell you old Fred but don't feel bad. Fred never won the Derby, as he calls it. His stablemate did. Old Fred wasn't even entered."

DENTAL HEALTH

(Following is the third in a series of articles on "Your Dental Health". Today, a child's first visit to the dentist.)

That first visit to the dentist for Johnny shouldn't be delayed past age 3, whether he appears to need attention or no.

The visit can be a social call in which the dentist and Johnny can become good friends. The dentist can show the child around his office, explain his equipment, and also initiate him into the ritual of tooth-brushing.

It's likely parents will have to do most of the brushing for some time. One suggestion is to let the child brush his own teeth and then have an adult go over them. The child is forming the habit of regular toothbrushing, but the parent is actually keeping the mouth clean.

Dentists find that children who have been started on a brushing routine early in life usually keep up the practice as they grow older. Dentists also find that the child who presents a problem is the one who has had no home training and whose first dental visit is postponed until he is 6 to 12 years old.

The notion that treatment of primary teeth is not important is false. They should be cared for as carefully as permanent teeth, dentists emphasize.

Premature loss of a first tooth may result in drifting of other teeth. If a space is blocked, the permanent tooth may not have room to erupt in its proper place. This forces the teeth out of alignment.

When certain primary teeth are lost, dentists sometimes recommend the use of a space maintainer in order to prevent other teeth from moving into the vacant space.

Many mothers believe that it is not important to repair first teeth inasmuch as they fall out anyway. This view not only leads to great pain and sleepless nights for the child, but may result in many abscessed teeth and necessitate wholesale extraction. This, in turn, interferes with proper growth of the child's jaw.

Battle Against Weeds in Lawns Is Joined Again

By JAMES FIZZELL
Assistant Farm Adviser
Control of crabgrass and broad leaf weeds is a continual process for most homeowners.

Most lawn weeds can be eliminated by proper lawn maintenance practices. It is difficult for weeds to get started in a thick healthy turf. Do not mow too short or water too little too often. Fertilizing at that time of year is not beneficial to the turf, but encourages the growth of crabgrass and other weeds.

If, in spite of proper lawn care, weeds are still a problem, there are several chemical aids which are quite helpful.

Broad leaved weeds are easily controlled with 2,4-D. If properly used, this material will kill such weeds as plantain, dandelions, and chick weed without damage to the lawn. If sed teeth and necessitate wholesale extraction. This, in turn, interferes with proper growth of the child's jaw.

How often should a child visit the dentist? Children, like adults, vary in mouth cleanliness and susceptibility to decay. In general, dental visits should be made at least every six months.

improperly used, this exceedingly powerful material can cause serious damage to the lawn and to desirable plants such as flowers, shrubs and trees. Do not use 2,4-D on windy days. Do not use near or on any desirable plants. Use only according to recommendations on the package.

If a single application of 2,4-D does not kill the weeds, it is much better to use repeated applications than to increase the strength of the solution.

Crabgrass, the villain of all lawns, can best be controlled with pre-emergence chemicals. Twenty five pounds of lead arsenate, or 12 pounds of calcium arsenate per 1000 square feet of lawn will adequately control crabgrass for one year. Chlordane insecticide at the rate of 1½ pounds of actual chlordane per 1000 square feet is also effective, and kills insects as well. Both these materials must be applied before the crabgrass begins to germinate in early May.

Materials such as disodium methyl arsenate (Sodan), or potassium cyanate applied after the crabgrass germinates are effective, however, repeated treatments are necessary.
